

Communication

The communication function allows the captain to speak to his crew members at any time. Here, for example, warnings about the route, but also information about the next stopover. During an announcement, the music stream pauses automatically.

SOS

Each member can send an emergency signal to the group by pressing twice on the S.O.S. button. The other members can see this emergency call on the map and can quickly come to their aid. By pressing the button the signal can be deactivated.

This is not a navigation app!

Without booked groups or created events, only your own location can be displayed. All members of the group can see the respective locations of the entire crew.

Card function

Everybody can register with his name or an alias in the group. The positions of all members are visible on the map at all times. The captain is marked by a large white dot on the map and is therefore easily recognizable.

All members of a group can be guided to different meeting points. A meeting point can be the start, the finish or a place with scenic sightings. This is determined by the captain in advance.

Stream music

One playlist. A thousands bikes!
Ride and enjoy the music together!

The captain has the possibility before the tour to create a common playlist that everyone can enjoy together during the ride.

The captain can add as many MP3 songs and play them on all bikes or mobile speakers.
